

Marshall Fletcher

Marshall Fletcher is the Director of Facilities Management Sales for National Accounts for Document Technologies, Inc. and is responsible for directing their “green” initiative. DTI provides a comprehensive suite of services to help law firms lower discovery and production-related costs while reducing risk and improving management practices. They are a major supporter of legal industry associations and, in addition to providing financial support at local, region and national levels, they contribute to the legal community by providing educational seminars, presentations and industry articles.

Marshall is a frequent speaker at ALA, LMA, and ABA events and has written articles for several publications. He is also a past national president of the Association of Legal Administrators, an international professional association with over 11,000 members. While in ALA leadership, he conducted numerous educational seminars and was a guest speaker at more than 75 events.

Marshall has extensive legal industry experience. He was the Director of Corporate Legal Services for Turner Broadcasting System, Inc. for six years and executive director of a civil litigation firm for seven years. Having worked for a private law firm as well as a law firm corporate client, he has a unique perspective on how legal services are (and are not) provided.
